Description of the boundaries for Kolar Municipality.

North.—The boundary line starts near the end of Survey No. 28 of Kolar from the existing Municipal boundary stone on the Kolar-Sompur road and crossing the Kolar-Sompur road, follows the western boundaries of Survey Nos. 30-31 and 32 of Kolar and then turning to the east and passing along the northern boundary of Survey No. 32 of Kolar, comes to the north-eastern boundary stone of Survey No. 32, where will be located a Municipal boundary stone. The boundary line then runs straight across the bed of the Kodikannur tank to the Municipal boundary stone on the bund of the tank in the Kolar-Srinivaspur road and thence turning in a south-easterly direction follows the course of the sluice channel in Survey Nos. 82-85-86-73-72-71-70-63-62-59-57-56 of Kodikannur village and then joining the discharge channel of the Kodikannur tank at the end of Survey No. 58 of Kodikannur village, follows the course of this discharge channel and uniting with the discharge channel of Kolar-Amanikere tank proceeds in a north-easterly direction up to the point where the sluice channel from Kolar-Amanikere tank and the combined discharge channel touch near the northern extremity of Survey No. 64 of Kolar village. Here there will be a Municipal boundary stone.

East.—The boundary line begins at the last mentioned Municipal boundary stone and follows the course of the sluice channel as far as Survey No. 84 of Kolar village and then entering the Kolar-Amanikere village and proceeding along the same sluice channel reaches Kolar-Amanikere tank bund on which there will be a Municipal boundary stone near the registered number stone of the tank from the last mentioned boundary stone, the boundary line passes in a straight line in a south-westerly direction to the south-eastern boundary (pahani) stone of Survey No. 153. There will be a Municipal boundary stone in the bed of the tank on the straight line. There will also be a Municipal boundary stone at the south-eastern boundary stone of Survey No. 153. The boundary line passes from the latter in a straight line to the south-western boundary stone of Survey No. 177, where there will be a Municipal boundary stone.

South.—From this point the boundary line crosses straight to the south-eastern boundary of Survey No. 179 of Kolar. Here will be located a Municipal boundary stone on the road. From the Municipal boundary stone the line proceeds to the north of a natural channel on the southern boundary line of Survey Nos. 179, 189, 188, 187, 192, 193 and 194 of Kolar, meets the cart-track leading from Chamanahalli to Kolar at the South-western boundary of Survey No. 194 of Kolar and thence crossing the cart-track meets the pahani stone between two bonds on the south-east of Survey No. 214 of Kolar and thence proceeding west and then north on the southern and western boundaries respectively of the same survey number, meets the southern boundary line of Survey No. 215 of Kolar and thence proceeding in a north-westerly direction on the boundary line of the said survey number reaches the point where the village of Chamanahalli-Harohalli and Kolar meet and thence crossing the cart-track leading from Bagali to Kolar reaches the south-eastern pahani stone of Survey No 216 of Kolar village. Near this point there is a Municipal boundary stone.

From this Municipal boundary stone the boundary line passes west on the southern boundary of Survey No. 216 of Kolar and thence following the western boundary of Survey No. 216 as far as the cart-track, meets the south-eastern pahani stone of Survey No. 86 of Harohalli village, passes west on the southern boundary of the same Survey No. 86, until it meets the eastern boundary of Survey No. 87 and thence turning southwards on the eastern boundary of Survey No. 87 of Harohalli comes to the south-eastern point of the said survey number and then skirting the southern boundary of Survey Nos. 87 and 81 of Harohalli comes to south-western point of the said Survey No. 81 and thence proceeds north on the western boundary of Survey No. 81 until the southern boundary line of Survey No. 2 of Sultantippasandra. Thence proceeding west on the southern boundary of the same Survey No. 2 the boundary line comes to the south-western point of Survey No. 2 and thence proceeding north on the western boundary of the same survey number joins the Madras-Cannanore road at the north-west point of Survey No. 2 and crosses the road from there straight to the pahani stone towards the north-east in Survey No. 7 of Sultantippasandra on the other side of the road. Here a Municipal boundary stone will be located.

West.—From the last boundary stone the boundary line turns in a north-easterly direction to the junction point of the cart-track in Survey No. 7 of Sultantippasandra with the Madras-Cannanore road and from thence in a north-westerly direction the line follows the cart-track in Sultantippasandra and Keelkota through Survey Nos. 7-66-63-62 and 60 of Sultantippasandra and Survey No. 10 of Keelkota and through the bed of Keelkota tank in a straight line meets the Keelkota tank bund road where there will be a Municipal boundary stone; from the last mentioned boundary stone the boundary line passes along the tank bund road to the south-western point of Survey No. 111 of Keelkota and thence proceeding north in the western boundary of Survey No. 111 of Keelkota joins a natural channel and proceeds along the outer border of it to the northern most pahani stone of Survey No. 104, thence crosses directly to the point where a foot-path emerges from Survey No. 82 into the halla and thence passing along the eastern boundary of Survey No. 82 and reaching the eastern-most point of Survey No. 82 crosses to the southernmost point of Survey No. 83 and thence passing on the south-western boundary of Survey No. 83 meets the frontier of Sangondahalli and Keelkota at the south-western extremity of Survey No. 83 and thence proceeding along the joint frontier of the two villages named and leaving Survey Nos. 83-84 and 85 on the right, reaches the Kolar-Sompur road. The boundary line then runs in a south-easterly direction and meets the Municipal boundary stone at the north-western extremity of Survey No. 28 of Kolar from which the boundary line first started. Within the Municipal limits therefore lie the lands of the 6 villages, viz., Kolar-Kodikannur, Kolar-Amanikere, Harohalli, Sultantippasandra and Keelkota.

Circular No. 2534-41, dated 18—25*th August* 1908.

The Revenue Commissioner understands that the checking and passing of final measurements of works carried out by the Revenue Department is entrusted, at times, to the subordinates themselves who are in charge of the works. As this procedure does not ensure sufficient check, the Deputy Commissioners are requested to see that, in future the final measurements are checked and passed as a rule by the Overseer or Sub-Overseer attached to the District, and where it cannot be done by the latter, by a Revenue Officer, not below the rank of an Amildar, if no technical knowledge is required for taking the measurements. In cases where it is not convenient for Revenue Officers also or where professional knowledge is required, the Public Works Sub-Division Officers (within whose jurisdiction the works in question may be situated) may be asked to verify the measurements.

2. Occasionally, the measurements taken by the Overseer or Sub-Overseer attached to the District may also be caused to be checked by the Public Works Sub-Division Officer before the bills are finally passed for payment or, when the final payments have to be made urgently after such payment, if the latter is an officer of a higher rank than the Overseer attached to the district.

RESOLUTION.

The following papers relative to the Universal and International Exhibition to be held at Brussels in the year 1910, are published for general information, in continuation of Resolution No. 22-42-1, dated the 6th January 1908.

BRUSSELS UNIVERSAL AND INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION, 1910.

UNDER THE HIGH PATRONAGE OF HIS MAJESTY THE KING OF THE BELGIANS AND THE HONORARY PRESIDENCY OF H. R. H. PRINCE ALBERT OF BELGIUM WITH THE SUPPORT OF THE PUBLIC AUTHORITIES.

Appeal to Producers.

Brussels, January 24, 1908.

A Universal and International Exhibition will open at Brussels in the month of April, 1910, and will last for about six months. Its Palaces and Halls will be erected in the new quarter of the Avenue Louise skirted by the grand old beech trees of the Bois de la Camber, the favourite resort of the Brussels people. What a delightful view indeed will the observer command from this picturesque site: he will witness in the distance the undulating country overlooked in the rear by the thick-set trees and green shrubbery of the Forest of Soignes.

From its position at the junction of the main lines of communication of Europe, and its being the Capital of one of the most densely populated and most industrial countries of the Globe, and having, for centuries past, been accumulating art treasures of all kinds, Brussels is so well known that any enlargement upon its reputation would be quite unnecessary.

Not only is the Belgian Capital the seat of a strong artistic, scientific, and commercial movement, but every possible effort is made towards improving the City and rendering it more and more attractive, while the people are always ready to welcome and extend hospitality to foreigners coming to visit Brussels.

No sooner had the scheme been announced than it secured the enlightened protection of the King and the support of Government; and the Brussels Exhibition is bound to be a great success.

The Belgian Government have acquainted the Foreign Cabinets with the organisation of this Exhibition, inviting them to take part and to be officially represented by appointing Commissioners or Committees.

Even now, important corporations are in course of formation, from all over Belgium considerable support is forthcoming and adhesions have practically been received from the large neighbouring Countries.

The Brussels Universal and International Exhibition includes, in broad lines, artistic, scientific, industrial, commercial and colonial sections. It will be open to works of art, industrial and agricultural products, and generally to all wares coming within the classification annexed to the General Regulations.

The Artistic section will consist of an International Saloon of Fine Arts.

The Scientific section will embrace with the various degrees of education the instruments and general methods connected with Letters, Sciences and Arts.

The Industrial section will be made up of all the products, methods and materials, both industrial and agricultural.

Steps will be taken to render fully complete the special groups connected with fancy trades, mines, metallurgy, machinery, electricity, arms manufacturing and mechanical locomotion.

The programme further contains special Exhibitions, temporary Agricultural and Horticultural Shows; Congresses, Conferences, Artistic and Sportive Fêtes.

The Executive Committee also propose to organise during the Exhibition popular games and competitions.

Furthermore, like at other Exhibitions, national compartments will be formed wherein the works and productions of a same country will be divided into groups and classes according to a system of general classification.

The Exhibition will cover a total area of about two hundred acres, a large portion of which will be reserved to the Foreign Sections. The installations will be connected with the Belgian State Railway, so as to bring all exhibits up to the required spot, on rail tracks laid down in the Halls and ground.

The principal Palace and the Halls of the Exhibition will be built of iron and covered with hard materials: the roofed surface amounting to at least one hundred and fifty thousand square metres.

The Machinery Gallery will include numerous workshops in operation under the eyes of the Public.

A vast park, in which attractions will scatter in all directions, will surround the buildings.

Enclosed herewith will be found the full programme of the Exhibition comprising the General Regulations, and the detailed classification of the goods.

The attention of Exhibitors is specially directed to the fact that the rent for detached space includes handling charges (Article 25 of General Regulations). Exhibitors will thus be enabled to accurately estimate beforehand the charges incumbent upon them.

According to the clauses inserted in Articles 18 and 27 of the General Regulations, special arrangements may be concluded for the hire of large spaces as well as for the handling work and storage of empties, but solely with such countries as are officially represented.

In that case, the charges would be fixed separately, viz.:

(1) For hire of space in the Halls, exclusive of expense of decoration;

(2) For handling;

(3) For storage of empties.

Any such agreements to be entered into with officially represented countries will be drawn up by the Commissioner-General of the Belgian Government.

The Government will grant on the State Railways free transport to and from, of Belgian products consigned to the Exhibition and free return in the case of foreign exhibits.

The Exhibition will be treated as an actual bonded warehouse, foreign goods intended for the Exhibition being allowed provisional duty-free importation subject to being afterwards re-exported.

The necessary measures will be taken by the Government for protecting in Belgium patentable inventions, industrial designs or models, and manufacturing or trade marks appearing at the Exhibition.

Moreover, the Belgian Government have sanctioned the organisation of a Lottery comprising several series of a million tickets each. The prizes will be purchased from the Exhibitors, or (as regards series of tickets issued prior to the opening) from such persons as shall have given a written undertaking to exhibit.

An International Jury of Awards will be instituted, to operate under the control of the Commissioner-General of the Belgian Government. The Members of the Jury will be designated by the Government of their respective countries.

The General Regulations specify the nature of the awards to be attributed to the Exhibitors; same consist of diplomas or medals.

In conclusion, the Executive Committee propose to give all kinds of fêtes, to multiply the attractions with the view of enhancing the splendour of the Exhibition and increasing the number of visitors.

The Board of Directors of the "Sociètè Anonyme de l'Exposition de Bruxelles" is placed under the Presidency of Baron Baeyens, Governor of the Bank "Sociètè Généralé de Belgique." An Executive Committee with Mr. Emile De Mot, Senator, Burgomaster of the City of Brussels, as President, has been invested with all the powers of the Board.

The Executive Committee will determine the various measures coming within the scope of organisation and management, and are exclusively qualified to deal with all questions of receipts and expenditure.

Although an undertaking solely due to private initiative, the Brussels Exhibition has ensured the effective co-operation of the Belgian Government, and also the support of the City of Brussels and Province of Brabant. It is placed under the High Patronage of H. M. the King of the Belgians and under the Honorary Presidency of H. R. H. Prince Albert of Belgium.

The Duke d'Ursel has been invested with the functions of Government Commissioner-General to the Brussels Exhibition, and M. J. Gody has been appointed Deputy Commissioner-General.

The Exhibition is not organised with the view of profit; its promoters are anxious to make our country appreciated abroad, by displaying anew her productive power and industrial progress.

The Executive Committee therefore warmly appeal to all, convinced, as they are, that the character and object of the Exhibition will secure numerous and important adhesions.

To—All Executive Engineers of Divisions, Chief Electrical Engineer, Sanitary Engineer, and all Civil Officers.

Commencing with the Divisional objectionable items, statement for July 1908, the following alterations in the present procedure will be brought into force:—

(1) The statement will, after disposal, be recorded in the Central Office, and not sent to Divisions for record.

(2) All items of objectionable outlay on works costing less than Rs. 500 which are now lumped together, will hereafter be detailed in full, thus affording greater facilities to disbursing and controlling officers for prompt removal of irregularities.

(3) All items which remain undisposed will, as in the case of Audit Notes, be carried forward to the next statement issuing from this office, and wherever necessary, the remarks of the Superintending or Chief Engineer, as the case may be, will be reproduced for information and necessary action.

Circular No. 2, P. W., dated 29th—31st August 1908.

To—All Executive Engineers.

An instance having recently occurred in which a large sum of money as Imprest was, contrary to rule, entrusted to a lower subordinate for granting advances to work people, the Comptroller has the honor to request that the following procedure concurred in by the Chief Engineer, may in future be adopted to obtain money to pay advances to labour when the advances have been sanctioned in the first instance:—

(1) If the money is required within the limits of the district, the Executive Engineer will open a drawing account at a Taluk Treasury nearest the site of the work concerned and make payments by cheques on that Treasury.

(2) If, however, money is required in any other district, the Executive Engineer will obtain a Letter of Credit on that Treasury also and, if necessary, make the money available at a Taluk Treasury in that district. He should then issue cheques on that Treasury in favor of the subordinate against that credit; the amounts of cheques so issued being dealt with as laid down in para 971 of the Code.

(3) In no case, however, should subordinates be entrusted with large cash Imprests.

J. S. CHAKRAVARTI,
Comptroller, P. W. and Ry. Branch.

Circular No. 2102—A. C, dated 1st September 1908.

To—All Assistant Commissioners, Amildars, Deputy Amildars and Munsiffs.

As the information regarding Departmental and other examinations passed by Assistant Commissioners, Amildars, Deputy Amildars and Munsiffs, given at present in the Quarterly Civil List, is probably not complete, the undersigned has the honor to request the officers mentioned above to examine the entries against their names, and to intimate to his office any additions or alterations to be made.

Some officers have passed the Revenue Examination under the Rules of 1885, which comprised among its subjects Accounts and Registration also. Such officers are exempted from passing the latter tests separately. When the entry against an officer who has passed the Revenue Examination before 1885 does not indicate this clearly, the fact may also be brought to notice.

Powers of Government under Section 6 of the Regulation.

No. Fl. 964—S. R. 20-08-3, dated 20*th August* 1908.

In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 2, Act XVI of 1863, as applied to Mysore by Regulation, II of 1885, and Sections 13 and 15 of the Mysore Excise Regulation, V of 1901; in that regard, and in exercise of all other powers enabling them in this behalf, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore are pleased to make the following amendments to the Methylated Spirit Rules published under Government Notification No. Fl. 4727—S. R. 130-07-2, dated 21st March 1908, and these amendments will come into force at once :—

1. Insert the following as Rules 3(a) and 4(a) :—

"3(a) Methylated Spirit may be imported by holders of M. S.—1*a* licenses on payment to the Mysore State of a duty of 5 per cent ad valorem and on obtaining from the Deputy Commissioner of the District concerned a permit in Form M. S.—2*a* to be had on application in Form M. S.—3*a*."

"4(a) Chemists and others requiring caoutchoucined spirit for use in their business, but not for sale, will be given special licenses (M. S.—1*a*) on application, supported by evidence as to their requirements, through the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which they carry on their business, to the Excise Commissioner."

2. Insert the words "by Deputy Commissioners" after the word "issued" in line 1 of Rule 4. Also insert the following sentence after the first sentence in the same rule:—

"All such applications should be forwarded to the Excise Commissioner through the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which the applicant wishes to hold his license."

3. Insert after the words "the holders of (M. S.—1)" in Rule 5 the words "and M. S.—1*a*." After the word "price" in line 2 put a comma and add the words "cost of carriage."

4. Substitute the following for condition 2 of the license for the sale of Methylated Spirit:—

"2. Methylated Spirits may be obtained from the Bonded Depot, on payment of the reduced duty at 5 per cent ad valorem, and price and cost of carriage at such rate as may be fixed by the manufacturers and Government respectively, into a Taluk Treasury on the prescribed chellan and on production of a written permission from the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which the shop is located. All applications for such permission must be in the prescribed form. Books of form of application may be had on payment of their cost price."

Thus amended and re-numbered the rules will read as follows and should be cited accordingly in supersession of previous notifications on the subject:—

1. Methylated Spirit is spirit rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption by the admixture of caoutchoucine or in special cases of wood-naptha.

2. It is liable to duty of 5 per cent ad valorem, the value to be fixed by the Excise Commissioner subject to revision by Government. The manufacturers should declare the sale price of the spirit for the purpose of calculating the duty.

3. It may be manufactured at the Government Central Distillery at Bangalore, provided:—

(1) that the caoutchoucine to be mixed with the spirit must be first tested and approved by the Chemical Examiner to Government,

(2) that it must be kept under lock and key by, and used under the supervision of, the Distillery Officer,

(3) that it must be used in the proportion of one part by volume of caoutchoucine to 99 parts by volume of the spirit, and

(4) that the spirit shall not be of less strength than 30 per cent over-proof.

Similar conditions apply to the use of wood-naptha in the special cases where its use is permitted by the Excise Commissioner in Mysore, with this difference, that one part by volume crude wood-naptha shall be mixed with nine parts of spirits and that the use of wood-naptha in a highly purified condition will not be permitted.

3(a) Methylated Spirit may be imported by holders of M. S.—1*a* licenses on payment to the Mysore State of a duty of 5 per cent ad valorem and on obtaining from the Deputy Commissioner of the District concerned a permit in Form M. S.—2*a* to be had on application in Form M. S.—3*a*.

4. Licenses (M. S.—1) for the sale of Methylated Spirits will be issued by the Deputy Commissioner free of fee to respectable applicants on their showing that they have a legitimate demand for such spirit. All such applications should be forwarded to the Excise Commissioner through the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which the applicant wishes to hold his license. But the issue of licenses to persons licensed to sell liquor for consumption on the premises is prohibited.

4(a) Chemists and others requiring caoutchoucined spirit for use in their business, but not for sale, will be given special licenses (M. S.—1*a*) on application, supported by evidence as to their requirements, to the Excise Commissioner through the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which they carry on their business.

5. The holders of (M. S.—1 and M. S.—1*a*) licenses may obtain their supplies of spirit from the Bonded Depot on payment of the price, cost of carriage and duty to the Taluk Treasury and on production of a written permission (M. S.—2) from the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which the shop is located. Books of forms of application for such permission (M. S.—3) will be supplied to them.

6. For the issue of Methylated Spirits from the Distillery to Bonded Depots the rules applicable to arrack and other country spirits shall apply mutatis mutandis.

7. No issue of more than 100 gallons of Methylated Spirit at a time to any license-holder is permitted.

8. Unlicensed persons are prohibited from selling Methylated Spirit and from possessing more than one gallon at a time. This limit is fixed under Section 13 of the Excise Regulation, V of 1901. Breach of this rule will subject the offender to the penalties prescribed in the Regulation.

9. Materials intended for use in the methylation of spirits must be delivered by the manufacturers into the charge of the Distillery Officer who will take a sample from each separate cask or parcel thereof and forward the same to the Excise Commissioner in Mysore for transmission to the Chemical Examiner, and will secure the bulk under a lock in a separate secure room or godown to be provided by the distiller. No portion of such bulk shall be used for the purpose of methylation or be transferred to the Warehouse until the receipt of the Chemical Examiner's report. On the receipt thereof, if it be to the effect that the materials are not suitable for use in methylation, the officer shall deliver the same to the manufacturers who shall be bound forthwith to remove the same from the premises and not bring them back again. If, however, the Chemical Examiner's report is to the effect that the materials are suitable for use in methylation, the officer will cause them to be removed into and to be secured in the Distillery Warehouse, and at the same time enter them in the register (M. S.—4).

10. A register in the form (M. S.—4) shall be maintained at the Government Central Distillery at Bangalore.

No. 2344—Edn. 303-07-3, dated 5th September 1908.

The question of raising the pay of Taluk and Village School Masters to a minimum of Rs. 10 is one that has been engaging the attention of His Highness' Government for some time past. It has been felt by them that good work could not be expected from School Masters receiving less than a living wa —a wage less in many cases than that paid to menial servants.

2. As a first step : the direction of improving the position of these School Masters it was directed in Government Proceedings No. 2715-6—Ed. 259-06-4, dated the 23rd September 1907, that the pay of all such teachers as were getting less than Rs. 10 be raised by one rupee each with effect from the 1st October 1907, thus raising the minimum pay of teachers from Rs. 7 to Rs. 8. The extra cost involved by this arrangement was Rs. 23,832 (State Funds Rs. 16,236 and Village School Funds, Rs. 7,596).

3. The Government are now in a position on a consideration of ways and means to give full effect to the reform in question by raising the minimum pay of Taluk and Village School Masters once for all to Rs. 10. This will accordingly be done with effect from 1st July 1908. This measure entails an additional cost of Rs. 46,968 per annum the whole of which, in consideration of the low state of the Village School Fund, has been ordered to be borne by the General Revenues this year.

No. 2214—San. 52-08-2, dated 3rd September 1908.

Whereas the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore are satisfied that there is danger of an outbreak of plague in Talakad, Mudukadore and Vijayapur villages, in the T.-Narsipur Taluk, Mysore District, if persons from plague-infected areas are permitted to assemble at that place on the occasion of Panchalingadarsana jatra :

All persons proceeding to the said jatra in contravention of this notification will be turned back.

Resolved that—

(i) as regards the 1st proposal 'that no special police establishment should be sanctioned for duty,' the Board feel they are not competent to deal with the question as it entirely rests with the Government, who will doubtless take all necessary precautionary measures on the out-break of plague and make adequate arrangements for safeguarding property and person both in the evacuated houses and in camps, in the best way possible, and,

(ii) as regards the fourth proposal that 'the Board should set apart and place at the disposal of the Sanitary Department sufficient funds,' for the prevention of cholera, small-pox, etc., the Board regretfully realize that their very slender resources do not permit of contribution to any such separate fund and that the allotment of Rs. 600 in the current year's District Fund budget under "cholera, plague and other epidemic charges," the most they could provide for the purpose, is hardly sufficient for the whole district to meet any emergencies.

23. Read Government Proceedings No. 1087-97—Edn. 340-07-8, dated the 30th July 1908, sanctioning and extending free education in certain classes of all village Elementary Schools, Government Taluk Vernacular Schools and all Anglo-Vernacular Schools maintained from the State and Village School Funds, and making the study of English compulsory from class III upwards, in all Government Anglo-Vernacular Schools.

Recorded with the thanks of the Board to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja, for rendering education free, so far.

24. Read docket No. 7346-55—Medl. 67-07-5, dated the 27th January 1908, from the Secretary to Government, General and Revenue Departments, requesting to report with the copies of the resolutions of the District and Municipal Boards, whether it is considered desirable to declare vaccination compulsory and if so, in what place and for what period.

The Board are of opinion that in order to overcome ignorance and fear among the masses, the results of experiments now being tried in the Kolar Gold Fields and in the Cities of Bangalore and Mysore may be watched for some time.

I. Read and passed the District Fund accounts of Receipts and Expenditure for the months November 1907 to February 1908.

II. Read General and Revenue Secretary's docket No. 8869—L. B. 330-06-9, dated 6th March 1908, calling for the resolution of the Board in re the claim of one Chicknagiah for having excavated a well at Chinnahalli in the Tumkur Taluk; and (2) Executive Engineer's memo, dated 3rd July 1908, forwarding No. 1 Sub-Divisional Officer's docket No. 281, dated 29th June 1908, stating that the cost of the work executed by the petitioner amounts to Rs. 70-1-4 as per measurements taken by him.

Resolved that the measurements of the work taken by the Sub-Divisional Officer, Public Works Department No. 1, be accepted and that the cost thereof, viz., Rs. 64-5-10 less the value of dynamite supplied to the contractor be paid to the contractor out of the allotmet made for the Tumkur Taluk under "B Public Works" in the current year's District Fund Budget.

III. Read Government Proceedings No. 11760-1—L. B. 378-07-2, dated 12th May 1908, requesting to be informed whether Government sanction was obtained for the purchase of the vessels and furniture for 3rd class travellers' bungalows and musafirkhanas and stating that if no such sanction was obtained a report should be made as to the necessity for purchasing them with the Board's Resolution.

Resolution.—A list showing the details of vessels and furniture supplied to the several musafirkhanas and travellers' bungalows during the year 1907-08, may be sent up to Government. In most cases there were no old vessels to be replaced as none had been supplied before. In a few cases the supply felt short of ordinary requirements and was supplemented.

In regard to the furniture, the fresh supplies were either in replacement of thoroughly irreparable articles or in supplement of short supplies.

Government sanction was not necessary as Deputy Commissioners were authorized to supply furniture and vessels up to a limit of Rs. 100, at a time in the case of each bungalow. This was by Government Order No. G. 156-65—G. F. 15-96, dated 7th July 1904. No doubt the order did not issue from the Local Fund Branch of the Secretariat, but it will be seen from the Local Boards Regulation that the designation "Deputy Commissioner" is also frequently used therein and the order in question was probably therefore construed to apply to all bungalows in a District whether maintained by Provincial Funds or District Funds. The order issued in July 1904, and there was no objection from the Comptroller for the purchase in that official year nor in the year following. In the year 1906-07, objection was taken but it was pointed out in reply that the purchases had been duly approved by the District Board. The Comptroller then drew our attention to Rule 136 of the Rules under the Local Boards Regulation, but that Rule was clearly inapplicable as it referred to purely Contingent charges of the Office in excess of Rs. 50.

If, however, the Government order quoted above should not be considered as including the buildings maintained for the public from Local Funds, the Board beg that it may be extended to them also.

IV. Read General and Revenue Secretary's docket No. 11843—Ml. 349-07-5, dated 13th May 1908, requesting to be furnished with the Resolutions of the Sira Taluk Board and the District Board in the matter of holding the Sira sante near the Dispensary; and

(2) Sira Taluk Amildar's report, dated 25th May 1908, submitting the resolution of the Taluk Board in the matter.

Resolved that there is no need to change the present site of the sante.

V. Read General and Revenue Secretary's docket No. 12077—Med. F. 143-07-7, dated 19th May 1908, requesting to be furnished with the Board's resolution as to whether Rs. 12 per mensem is all that is required for the Native Vaidyasala at Amritur and stating that the source from which the cost of the Vaidyasala to be met may be pointed out, and that the pay of all Hospital Assistants in charge of Local Fund Dispensaries is debitable to Provincial Funds and not District Funds.

Resolution.—The sum of Rs. 12 will do for the present for the Vaidyasala and that after a year's experience this allotment may be increased, if necessary, and that the cost of this additional expenditure be met by re-appropriation out of the sum of Rs. 1,500 provided under "Village Sanitation" in the current year's budget.

In regard to the pay of the Hospital Assistants: the Board observe that the Secretary's docket No. 10387, dated the 18th April last had asked if the Board would agree to bear the entire cost of a properly equipped Local Fund Dispensary at Amritur.

VI. Proposed by Mr. K. Ramanuja Iyengar that a Vaidyasala be opened at Kadaba in the Gubbi Taluk, as the want of one there, is keenly felt by the villagers.

Resolved that Government be addressed on the subject for sanction and that the cost thereof, viz., Rs. 12 per month be met out of the provision of Rs. 1,500 provided under "VI Village Sanitation" in the current year's District Fund Budget.

VII. Read and recorded the undermentioned Government Proceedings:—

(1) Government Proceedings No, 11911-9—Ml. 422-07-2, dated 14th May 1908, passing orders in the matter of defining the duties of the Divisional Sanitary Officer, Western Circle, in regard to the Municipal Administration of the Shimoga Town.

(2) Government Proceedings No. 11543-56—L. B. 312-07-2, dated 9th May 1908, sanctioning the District Fund Budget Estimates of the Tumkur District for 1908-09.

(3) Government Notification No. 13661—L. B. 402-07-4, dated 30th June 1908, appointing new members to the District Board in place of time-expired members.

VIII. Read Government Proceedings No. G. 6663-702—G. R. 19-07-1, dated 14th May 1908, forwarding to the Deputy Commissioners of Districts the Dasara Calendar for 1908.

Resolved that Messrs. G. Sivaramaiya of Maddagiri and Singri Nanjappa of Tiptur should represent the Board at the ensuing Dasara Representative Assembly.

IX. Read General and Revenue Secretary's docket No. 888-95—L. B. 455-07-3, dated 25th July 1908, forwarding copy of statement showing the amount required for the maintenance charges of the Veterinary Hospitals and Dispensaries and requesting to be informed in consultation with the District and Municipal Boards in what proportion the charges will be met by the Boards.

Resolution.—Out of the sum of Rs. 150 noted against the Gubbi dispensary, a sum of Rs. 100 may be borne by the District Funds and the same may be met by re-appropriation from any of the existing grants in the current year's District Fund Budget.

X. Read Revenue Commissioner's docket No. 12311—Agr. 3, dated 9th May 1908, forwarding copy of letter dated 8th May 1908, from the General and Revenue Secretary in re the purchase of 5 water-lifts for demonstration purposes in this district.

Resolution.—Proposed by Mr. Ramanuja Iyengar and agreed by others that the lifts are for demonstration of improved methods of irrigation for the benefit of agriculturists owning kandayam-paying lands and as such they would seem to be a proper charge on the Revenue budget; and further that as "Kole Roga" does not prevail here the extra one anna cess collected in the Maidan Taluks may be properly utilised for this and other demonstrations and experiments for the benefit of kandayam-paying agriculturists in those taluks.

XI. Read Executive Engineer's docket No. 167, dated 30th June 1908, forwarding for the approval of the Board two estimates, one for repairing the bad furlongs on Banawar-Sira road for Rs. 202—and the other for metalling all the gravel furlongs on Tumkur-Maddur road for Rs. 4,771.

Resolution.—passed.

XII Read Gubbi Sub-Divisional Officer's yadi No. 755, dated 15th June 1908, requesting that sanction to an estimate for Rs. 108 for constructing a latrine near Kadaba musafirkhana may be accorded out of the savings of Rs. 153-15-10 out of Rs. 4,113 sanctioned for the construction of the Kadaba musafirkhana, and etc.

Resolved that the estimate for constructing the latrine be passed for Rs. 100 out of the current year's allotment made on account of it in the budget.

XIII. Read Maddagiri Sub-Divisional Officer's yadi No. 1580, dated 24th June 1908, submitting for sanction an estimate for Rs. 25 for deepening the well at Talagunda in the Sira Taluk.

Resolution.—Passed.

XIV.—Read the list of District Fund works that remained incomplete on the 30th June 1908.

Resolution.—Passed.

XV. Resolved that the undermentioned members be appointed members of the Finance Committee:—

(1) Vice-President of the Board.
(2) Executive Engineer, Tumkur Division.
(3) Deputy Inspector of Schools, Tumkur District.
(4) Mr. Adeppa bin Appannachetti.
(5) Mr. Mylarappa bin Kenchappa.

XVI. Proposed by the Maddagiri Sub-Divisional Officer that the well sunk at Pavagada be improved at a cost of about Rs. 710 during the current year.

Resolved that the proposal be accepted and Government be addressed in the matter with an estimate for sanction. A sum of Rs. 490 was sanctioned by the Board last year for the well The work progressed and it was found that the sum was not sufficient to give a well with an adequate storage of water. Having progressed so far, it was deemed undesirable to leave it there and do up the completion process and run the risk of seeing the well dry up within the next few months and render all the money spent until then a waste. The Board resolve that the well should be further sunk to ensure an unfailing supply in the driest of seasons in dry Pavagada. All the wells had run dry there last year and there was a great run on this well. Though primarily intended for the musafirkhana and the 3rd class travellers' bungalow it would be hard to drive away the towns-people from it. The further estimate for Rs. 700 and odd may be accepted and forwarded to Government for early sanction.

XVII. Resolved that the next meeting of the Board be held on the 22nd of September 1908 at 2 P.M.

No. 4.—Communications on post-cards or on paper less than half a sheet of foolscap, will not receive attention.

No. 5.—An efficient system of check and counter-check is maintained over the despatching of Gazette copies forwarded through post. No responsibility will be accepted when copies miscarry, or are not delivered to addressees, and such losses will not be replaced by duplicate copies.

No. 6.—Complaints regarding non-receipt of the Gazette should be forwarded to the undersigned within a week after the date on which it is due.

No. 7.—Copy is sometimes sent to the Press late on Wednesday evenings for publication in the next day's Gazette. This involves considerable inconvenience to the Press and expense to Government. It is therefore notified that all matter intended for publication in Parts II, III and IV should reach this office not later than Tuesday evening, and that for Part I not later than the forenoon of Wednesday, for the following Thursday's issue of the Gazette.

No. 8.—It is requested that Departments will refrain from sending to the Press any matter for publication as extremely urgent, later than 12 noon on Tuesdays, when such matter can without inconvenience be held over for the next week's Gazette.

No. 9.—Spare copies of notifications, etc., are often asked for long after their publication, when the matter has been broken up, necessitating its resetting, causing inconvenience to the Press and waste of money. It is therefore requested that, when spare copies are wanted, a note to that effect, stating the number of copies, be made at foot of such notification, etc.

No. 10.—If no instructions, either at foot of notifications, or separately by docket, accompany any matter, it will be printed in the language in which it is written, and published only once.

BANGALORE, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1908.

PART III.

Legislative Measures and Rules thereunder.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. Fl. 964—S. R. 20-08-3, dated 20*th August* 1908.

In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 2, Act XVI of 1863, as applied to Mysore by Regulation, II of 1885, and Sections 13 and 15 of the Mysore Excise Regulation, V of 1901, in that regard, and in exercise of all other powers enabling them in this behalf, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore are pleased to make the following amendments to the Methylated Spirit Rules published under Government Notification No. Fl. 4727—S. R. 130-07-2, dated 21st March 1908, and these amendments will come into force at once :—

1. Insert the following as Rules 3(a) and 4(a) :—

"3(a) Methylated Spirit may be imported by holders of M. S.—1*a* licenses on payment to the Mysore State of a duty of 5 per cent ad valorem and on obtaining from the Deputy Commissioner of the District concerned a permit in Form M. S.—2*a* to be had on application in Form M. S.—3*a*."

"4(a) Chemists and others requiring caoutchoucined spirit for use in their business, but not for sale, will be given special licenses (M. S.—1*a*) on application, supported by evidence as to their requirements, through the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which they carry on their business, to the Excise Commissioner."

2. Insert the words "by Deputy Commissioners" after the word "issued" in line 1 of Rule 4. Also insert the following sentence after the first sentence in the same rule:—

"All such applications should be forwarded to the Excise Commissioner through the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which the applicant wishes to hold his license."

3. Insert after the words "the holders of (M. S.—1)" in Rule 5 the words "and M. S.—1*a*." After the word "price" in line 2 put a comma and add the words "cost of carriage."

4. Substitute the following for condition 2 of the license for the sale of Methylated Spirit:—

"2. Methylated Spirits may be obtained from the Bonded Depot, on payment of the reduced duty at 5 per cent ad valorem, and price and cost of carriage at such rate as may be fixed by the manufacturers and Government respectively, into a Taluk Treasury on the prescribed chellan and on production of a written permission from the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which the shop is located. All applications for such permission must be in the prescribed form. Books of form of application may be had on payment of their cost price."

Thus amended and re-numbered the rules will read as follows and should be cited accordingly in supersession of previous notifications on the subject:—

1. Methylated Spirit is spirit rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption by the admixture of caoutchoucine or in special cases of wood-naptha.

2. It is liable to duty of 5 per cent ad valorem, the value to be fixed by the Excise Commissioner subject to revision by Government. The manufacturers should declare the sale price of the spirit for the purpose of calculating the duty.

3. It may be manufactured at the Government Central Distillery at Bangalore, provided:—

(1) that the caoutchoucine to be mixed with the spirit must be first tested and approved by the Chemical Examiner to Government,

(2) that it must be kept under lock and key by, and used under the supervision of, the Distillery Officer,

(3) that it must be used in the proportion of one part by volume of caoutchoucine to 99 parts by volume of the spirit, and

(4) that the spirit shall not be of less strength than 30 per cent overproof.

Similar conditions apply to the use of wood-naptha in the special cases where its use is permitted by the Excise Commissioner in Mysore, with this difference, that one part by volume crude wood-naptha shall be mixed with nine parts of spirits and that the use of wood-naptha in a highly purified condition will not be permitted.

3(a) Methylated Spirit may be imported by holders of M. S.—1*a* licenses on payment to the Mysore State of a duty of 5 per cent ad valorem and on obtaining from the Deputy Commissioner of the District concerned a permit in Form M. S.—2*a* to be had on application in Form M. S.—3*a*.

4. Licenses (M. S.—1) for the sale of Methylated Spirits will be issued by the Deputy Commissioner free of fee to respectable applicants on their showing that they have a legitimate demand for such spirit. All such applications should be forwarded to the Excise Commissioner through the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which the applicant wishes to hold his license. But the issue of licenses to persons licensed to sell liquor for consumption on the premises is prohibited.

4(a) Chemists and others requiring caoutchoucined spirit for use in their business, but not for sale, will be given special licenses (M. S.—1*a*) on application, supported by evidence as to their requirements, to the Excise Commissioner through the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which they carry on their business.

5. The holders of (M. S.—1. and M. S.—1*a*) licenses may obtain their supplies of spirit from the Bonded Depot on payment of the price, cost of carriage and duty to the Taluk Treasury and on production of a written permission (M. S.—2) from the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which the shop is located. Books of forms of application for such permission (M. S.—3) will be supplied to them.

6. For the issue of Methylated Spirits from the Distillery to Bonded Depots the rules applicable to arrack and other country spirits shall apply mutatis mutandis.

7. No issue of more than 100 gallons of Methylated Spirit at a time to any license-holder is permitted.

8. Unlicensed persons are prohibited from selling Methylated Spirit and from possessing more than one gallon at a time. This limit is fixed under Section 13 of the Excise Regulation, V of 1901. Breach of this rule will subject the offender to the penalties prescribed in the Regulation.

9. Materials intended for use in the methylation of spirits must be delivered by the manufacturers into the charge of the Distillery Officer who will take a sample from each separate cask or parcel thereof and forward the same to the Excise Commissioner in Mysore for transmission to the Chemical Examiner, and will secure the bulk under a lock in a separate secure room or godown to be provided by the distiller. No portion of such bulk shall be used for the purpose of methylation or be transferred to the Warehouse until the receipt of the Chemical Examiner's report. On the receipt thereof, if it be to the effect that the materials are not suitable for use in methylation, the officer shall deliver the same to the manufacturers who shall be bound forthwith to remove the same from the premises and not bring them back again. If, however, the Chemical Examiner's report is to the effect that the materials are suitable for use in methylation, the officer will cause them to be removed into and to be secured in the Distillery Warehouse, and at the same time enter them in the register (M. S.—4).

10. A register in the form (M. S.—4) shall be maintained at the Government Central Distillery at Bangalore.

Form M. S.—1.

No. 72—L. C., dated the 8th September 1908.

Under Rule 32 of the Rules for the conduct of the Mysore Legislative Council, the following bill together with the statement of Objects and Reasons therefor, is hereby published for general information :—

The Village Tank Panchayet Bill.

Preamble.

WHEREAS the customary obligations of raiyats in Mysore in regard to the maintenance of major tanks and the restoration, repair and maintenance of minor tanks, have not been satisfactorily carried out in the past; and

WHEREAS this result is mainly due to the disappearance of the communal spirit among the raiyats and to the absence of sufficient inducements to make them take an interest in their tanks; and

WHEREAS with a view to remedy these defects and to revive the communal spirit among the raiyats, it is expedient to constitute village panchayets to have control over the tanks and to administer the funds that may be assigned for their restoration, repair and maintenance;

His Highness the Maharaja is pleased to enact as follows :—

Short title.

1. (1) This Regulation may be called the "Village Tank Panchayet Regulation, 1908."

Local extent.

(2) It extends to the whole of Mysore; and Commencement.

(3) it shall come into force on the first day of January 1909.

All other tanks are "minor tanks."

(5) "Improvement" means increasing the capacity of a tank so as to provide additional water for irrigation or otherwise rendering it more useful for purposes of irrigation.

(6) "Maintenance" means works of petty repair required to keep or maintain a tank at the standard of safety that may be fixed for it after its construction, restoration or improvement, and includes the following :—

(i) The maintenance of the bund to the standard level and with the slopes specified, the specification of the level and slope being in accordance with the existing state of things and being approved both by the Executive Engineer and the Deputy Commissioner of the District.

(ii) The filling up of gullies or other inequalities caused by rain, the treading of cattle, etc., upon the bunds of tanks and channels.

(iii) The checking of the growth on bunds of prickly-pear, and any similar rank and pernicious weed.

(iv) The clearing of any underwood from the bunds of tanks wherever it may be injurious.

(v) The clearing and repair of the earthwork of petty and branch channels, and the clearing away of the accumulations in sluices and in all channels issuing from tanks, which obstruct the flow of water to the fields.

(vi) The keeping in order the supply channels of tanks.

(vii) The watching of the bunds of all tanks during rainy weather, turfing the parts acted on by the waves, helping in opening and closing the sluice, and generally the performance of minor duties of this nature in order to prevent breaches and other accidents.

(b) Whenever reference is made in this Regulation to the customary obligations of raiyats, in connection with the restoration, repair or maintenance of tanks, such reference shall, unless a different intention appears, be taken as applying to the obligations of raiyats as laid down in the Notification of the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, No. 65, dated the 2nd October 1873, with the alterations made therein by Government Notification No. 5262—Agri. 626-03-7, dated the 15th December 1904.

Constitution of Village Tank Panchayets.

3. For the effectual carrying out of the customary obligations of the raiyats in regard to the restoration, repair and maintenance of tanks, and for the better regulation of the use of water from tanks for purposes of irrigation, there may be constituted for any village, where the Government may consider it expedient to do so, and where a majority consisting of not less than two-thirds of the raiyats so desire, a Village Tank Panchayet composed of the patel and the shanbhog and three or more members elected by the raiyats as hereinafter prescribed;

Provided that instead of constituting a Village Tank Panchayet for a single village, the Government may, in special cases, constitute a Village Tank Panchayet as above for any specified tank or group of tanks or for a group of villages.

Qualifications for election to Panchayet.

4. Subject to the disqualifications mentioned in Section 5, every raiyat who

(a) owns wet or garden lands in the village on which the annual assessment is not less than Rs. 50, or

(c) pays in the village an annual mohatarfa tax of not less than Rs. 10, shall be qualified for election to the Panchayet.

Provided that the Government may, by notification published in the official Gazette, reduce, for any local area, the minimum amounts of assessment or mohatarfa tax prescribed above.

Disqualifications for election to Panchayet.

5. No person may be elected as a member of a Panchayet,

(a) who has been sentenced by a Criminal Court for an offence which in the opinion of Government implies moral turpitude, such sentence not having been subsequently reversed or quashed, or

(b) who has been declared an insolvent, or

(c) who is less than 21 years of age, or

(d) who is of the female sex.

Number of elected members of Panchayet.

6. The number of elected members of a Village Tank Panchayet shall be fixed by the Deputy Commissioner; and of the number so fixed such number, not less than one-fourth or more than one-half, as may be decided by the Deputy Commissioner, shall be elected by the raiyats holding dry lands and paying mohatarfa but not holding wet and garden lands, from among themselves; and the rest shall be elected by the raiyats holding wet and garden lands with or without dry lands, from among themselves.

Term of office of elected members.

7. The elected members of a Village Tank Panchayet shall hold office for a term of three years.

Patel to be Chairman of Panchayet.

8. The Patel shall be the Chairman of the Village Tank Panchayet and shall conduct all correspondence on behalf of the Panchayet.

The Tank Fund.

9. (1) The Panchayet shall have control over a fund to be called the Village Tank Fund, made up of the following items:—

(a) the amounts collected from raiyats under Section 11;

(b) the rent or value of the share of produce received under Section 12;

(c) the sale proceeds of the right of fishing in the tank, if any;

(d) the sale proceeds of the right of grazing in the tank bed and of the right of cutting and removing the grass on the tank bund;

(e) the sale proceeds of the produce of the trees in the tank and on the bund, if any;

(f) such grant out of the irrigation cess fund collected in the village, being either the whole or a portion thereof, as the Government may from time to time make to the fund;

(g) any other grant which the Government may make to the fund;

(h) any advance which the Government may make to the Panchayet under Section 15 for the execution of the masonry and stone work; and

(i) any loan which the Government may make to the Panchayet for carrying out the purposes of this Regulation.

(2) The fund shall be deposited in the Government Savings Bank or with any Agricultural Bank or Co-operative Society approved by the Deputy Commissioner, and shall be utilised by the Panchayet in executing the annual maintenance works of the major and minor tanks and the repairs of the minor tanks under its control, and for the construction, restoration or improvement of any minor tank, which may be entrusted to the Panchayet under Section 15.

(3) An account of the administration of the fund during each official year shall be submitted by the Panchayet to the general body of the raiyats at a meeting to be held within one month after the close of the official year.

Consequence of Panchayet coming into existence.

10. When a Village Tank Panchayet comes into existence under Section 3, the enforcement of the customary obligations of the raiyats, for the repair and maintenance of all the tanks in the village, shall thereafter vest in the Panchayet;

Provided that the Government may exclude any tank or tanks in the village from the control of the Panchayet.

Power of Panchayet to apportion repair and maintenance work among raiyats or to carry out work and recover cost from raiyats.

11. (1) The Panchayet shall have the power to apportion the work required for the repair or maintenance of the tank or tanks under its control, among the raiyats according to their respective obligations.

(2) If a raiyat fails to do the work allotted to him or prefers to commute his quota of labour into a money payment, the Panchayet shall itself get the work done out of the funds at its disposal, recovering from him the cost of such work as fixed by it.

(3) For determining the amount to be recovered from a raiyat under the last preceding sub-section, the Panchayet shall have the power to fix the wages of labour per diem, subject to such maximum and minimum rates as may be laid down by the Government.

Power to grant tank bed for cultivation.

12. The Panchayet shall have power to grant the bed of the tanks under its control for temporary cultivation of quick-growing crops on such terms as regards payment of rent or share of produce as may be deemed fit by it.

Power of Panchayet to regulate the issue of water for irrigation.

13. The Panchayet shall have power to decide on the time for commencing the sowing of wet crops on the wet lands below the tanks under its control and to regulate the issue of water for irrigation from such tanks.

Power to restrict wet cultivation.

14. (1) A Village Tank Panchayet, specially empowered by Government in this behalf, may, in any year, having regard to the quantity of water available in any tank under its control,

(a) determine the portion, out of all wet lands in the irrigable area of such tank, to be cultivated with wet crops and confine the supply of water for irrigation to such portion;

(b) refuse to allow water from the tank for the cultivation of sugarcane to all or any of the lands in its irrigable area;

(c) select a compact and suitable block as near to the sluice of the tank as possible and parcel it out among the different raiyats who may be desirous of growing sugarcane on such terms as regards the rent or share of the produce to be paid to the holder or holders of the lands comprised within the block as may appear to it to be reasonable and as may be agreed to by such holder or holders.

(2) No such power as is referred to in Sub-section (1) shall be conferred on a Village Tank Panchayet in regard to any tank under its control except with the consent of a majority of not less than two-thirds of the raiyats holding wet lands under such tank.

(3) If, in accordance with a decision of the Panchayet under clause (a) of Sub-section (1), any land assessed as wet is not supplied with water for irrigation, the holder of such land shall be entitled to remission of half the assessment of such land.

Panchayet may be entrusted with construction, restoration and improvement of minor tank.

15. (1) If, with the approval of a majority of not less than two-thirds of the raiyats who would derive benefit from the construction, restoration or improvement of a minor tank, a Village Tank Panchayet agrees to undertake the construction, restoration or improvement, as the case may be, of such minor tank, the execution of all the necessary work, with the exception of the masonry and stone work, may be entrusted to the Panchayet.

(2) The masonry and stone work required shall be executed by the Government at its cost; but if the Panchayet undertakes to execute it, such work may also, at the discretion of the Deputy Commissioner, be entrusted to the Panchayet, the estimated cost of such work being advanced to the Panchayet by the Government.

(3) The Panchayet shall be bound to have all the work entrusted to it executed according to the specifications and constructive details furnished by the Deputy Commissioner and within such time as may be allowed by the Deputy Commissioner.

Recovery of moneys due to Tank Fund.

16. All moneys due to the Village Tank Fund shall, in default of payment by the person from whom such moneys may be due, and on the application of the Panchayet, be recoverable by the Deputy Commissioner as arrears of land revenue.

Power of Government to abolish Panchayet in case of incompetency, default or abuse of powers.

17. (1) If, in the opinion of the Government, any Village Tank Panchayet is not competent to perform, or persistently makes default in the performance of, the duties imposed on it by or under this Regulation, or otherwise by law, or exceeds or abuses its powers, the Government may, by an order published, with the reasons for making it, in the Official Gazette, abolish the Panchayet.

(2) When a Panchayet is so abolished—

(a) the members of the Panchayet shall, as from the date of the order, vacate their offices as such members; and

(b) the Deputy Commissioner shall take charge of the funds of the Panchayet, if any, and shall enforce the customary obligations of the raiyats in the same manner as if the Panchayet had not been constituted and may utilise such funds for the purposes referred to in Section 9 in the same manner as the Panchayet may have utilised the same.

(3) A Panchayet thus abolished may, after such time as the Government may think fit, be reconstituted under the provisions of Section 3.

Obligation of the raiyats under the ordinary law unaffected.

18. Nothing in this Regulation shall be deemed to relieve the raiyats of any of their obligations under any law, or any rule, order or custom having the force of law, in regard to the restoration, repair and maintenance of tanks.

Power of Government to make rules and the matters in regard to which rules may be framed.

19. (1) The Government may, for the whole or any part of Mysore, or for any Panchayet or group of Panchayets, make rules to carry out the purposes of this Regulation.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may,—

(a) provide for the preparation of lists of persons qualified to vote under Sections 6, 14 and 15 and of persons qualified for election to the Panchayet under Sections 4 and 5;

(b) prescribe the procedure to be adopted at meetings of voters;

(c) prescribe the procedure to be adopted by Panchayets at their meetings;

(d) prescribe the accounts and books to be kept by the Panchayet and provide for the audit of such accounts;

(e) prescribe the accounts, returns and reports to be furnished by Panchayets.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

There are numerous tanks both large and small in the Mysore State, on the proper upkeep of which the prosperity of the country depends. It has always been recognised that the responsibility for the upkeep of tanks rests upon the raiyats who derive benefit from them, and, so far back as 1873, a set of rules was framed by the Chief Commissioner of Mysore (Notification No. 65, dated the 2nd October 1873) for the enforcement of the customary obligations of the raiyats in regard to the maintenance of tanks which have been restored and handed over to them for upkeep. It is under these rules as slightly modified by Government Notification No. R. 5262—Agri. 626-03-7, dated the 15th December 1904, that the maintenance of restored tanks is at present enforced.

2. It has however been found as a matter of experience that on the one hand the enforcement of the rules is attended with various difficulties due mainly to the disappearance of the communal spirit among the villagers, and that on the other hand the village officers who have been entrusted with the enforcement of the rules, have been slack in the discharge of this duty, with the result that many tanks have been allowed to deteriorate, and some of them to a serious extent.

3. This unsatisfactory result appears to be traceable to the fact that the maintenance of tanks has been treated as one in which Government is solely concerned and for which Government agency is alone responsible, the principal factor in the problem, namely, the raiyat owning lands under the tank, having been more or less ignored. Nothing has been done to interest the raiyat in the tank, and to secure his willing and intelligent help and co-operation in the mater of its repair and maintenance. The remedy to the present unsatisfactory state of things would appear to lie in giving the raiyats a voice in the measures necessary for the maintenance of their tanks and also giving them powers to execute the necessary works together with control over the funds that may be set apart for the purpose. With this view it has been considered expedient to constitute village panchayets composed of the patel and the shanbhog of the village and three or more members elected by the raiyats from among themselves. The object of the present bill is to authorise the constitution of such panchayets and to lay down their powers and duties.

4. It may be noted at the outset that the bill does not contemplate the compulsory constitution of panchayets in places where the raiyats do not wish to have them. The panchayets are to be formed only in places where a majority of not less than two-thirds of the villagers desire to have panchayets constituted. Nor does the bill impose any additional obligations on the raiyats in regard to tanks and their upkeep. The existing rules based on long recognised practice laying down the liability of raiyats to maintain all tanks brought up to standard and to restore certain minor tanks are left undisturbed. The bill only alters the agency by which this liability is to be enforced and substitutes the agency of panchayets composed mostly of members elected by the raiyats themselves, in place of the purely official agency now existing. And in order to create in the raiyats a sense of responsibility and the feeling that both the Government and they are jointly interested in the proper upkeep of the tanks, it is also proposed to assign to this new agency the control of the funds set apart for the repair and improvement of tanks. It is hoped that this will, by evoking the interest and concerted action of the raiyats in a matter which is of vital importance to them, go some way towards reviving the communal spirit among them. The object of the bill being thus only to authorise the constitution of panchayets for the control of tanks, in places where the villagers desire to have such panchayets, no attempt has been made in this bill to define the duties and obligations of the raiyats in respect of tanks or to codify the existing law, based on custom and notifications and orders of Government having the force of law, in regard to tanks. A Regulation to consolidate the law in regard to tanks in Mysore would, no doubt, be a very desirable measure, but it involves various difficult questions, the solution of which is not a matter of pressing urgency.

5. The powers and duties of the panchayets are clearly defined in the various clauses of the bill, and the scope of the several provisions of the bill and the reasons therefor are discussed in the accompanying notes.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Preamble.—The Preamble requires no comment. It only explains briefly the object of the bill as indicated in the preceding paragraphs.

Clause 2. (a) Definitions.—The word "Tank" has been defined to include comprehensively all sources of irrigation. Tanks intended for water-supply but not for irrigation are not included in the scope of the Regulation, although they are included in the existing Tank Maintenance Rules.

In defining the term "Major Tank" the existing classification is maintained, but with this difference, namely, that the assessment of the whole "irrigable area" is taken, instead of the actual revenue collection as at present, as the latter is subject to fluctuation. Power is reserved to Government to include any particular tanks as major tanks.

The definition of "Maintenance" is based on Rule 4 of the Tank Maintenance Rules.

The definition of "Village" includes not only single villages and groups of villages, but also the area within such limits as the Government may direct in cases where a Village Tank Panchayet is constituted for the control of a tank or group of tanks.

The definition of "Raiyats" is taken from the Tank Maintenance Rules and includes all persons who are under those rules responsible for the maintenance of tanks.

The definition of "Patel" and "Shanbhog" provides for Government selecting one of several patels and one of several shanbhogs in a "Village" as defined in this Regulation, to be members of the Village Panchayet.

Clause 2 (b).—The term "customary obligations of raiyats" used in several provisions of the Regulation is defined as meaning the obligations of raiyats as laid down in the Chief Commissioner's Notification No. 65, dated 2nd October 1873, with the alterations made therein by Government Notification No. 5262—Agri. 626-03-7, dated the 15th December 1904.

Clause 3 indicates the objects of forming village panchayets and explains the circumstances under which panchayets may be formed. It is proposed to constitute panchayets only in places where Government may consider that the conditions are favourable for their successful working and where a majority of not less than two-thirds of the raiyats concerned desire to have them. Ordinarily a panchayet will deal with the tanks in a single village, but provision is made for constituting panchayets to deal with the tanks of several villages, or for a single tank or several tanks situated in a single village or several villages.

Clauses 4 and 5 define the qualifications and disqualifications for election to a panchayet. The qualification is the payment of certain minimum amounts of land assessment or mohatarfa tax, but provision is made for reducing the minimum in places where there may not be a sufficient number of persons paying the amounts fixed.

The disqualifications are the usual ones based on sex, minority, insolvency and conviction for a criminal offence.

Clause 6 lays down that the number of elected members for each panchayet may be fixed by the Deputy Commissioner with reference to local requirements and circumstances. In order to safeguard the interests in the tank of persons who do not own wet lands, but only depend on it for water-supply, for drinking purposes for themselves and their cattle, it is provided that not less than one-fourth or more than one-half of the total number of elected members of the panchayet, as may be fixed by the Deputy Commissioner with reference to local conditions, shall be elected by mohatarfa payers and holders of dry land who do not hold wet and garden lands, from among themselves. The remaining members are to be elected by the raiyats holding wet and garden lands.

Clause 9 (1) enumerates the various items of revenue which will be assigned to the panchayet for the upkeep, repair and restoration of tanks. Several items which now go to general revenues such as sale proceeds of the right of fishing in the tank, grazing in the tank bed, and of the produce of trees in the tank bed or on the bund, and the rent recovered for temporary cultivation of the tank bed, are proposed to be assigned to the fund as an inducement to the villagers to come forward to constitute Village Panchayets. As the irrigation cess fund is intended for the improvement and repair of both major and minor tanks, and as the repair and improvement of major tanks is not proposed to be entrusted to the panchayet, it is provided that the Government may assign to the tank fund the whole or such portion as it may decide of the irrigation cess collected in the village. Provision is also made for the Government giving loans to the panchayet in cases where such a measure is expedient and necessary.

Clause 9 (2) prescribes where the money belonging to the fund is to be deposited and for what purposes it is to be utilised.

Clause 9 (3) directs that an account of the administration of the fund should be submitted to the general body of the raiyats at an annual meeting.

Clause 10 declares that on the formation of a panchayet for any area, the duty of enforcing the Tank Maintenance Rules with regard to all tanks in the village, which now vests in the village patel, shall thereafter vest in the panchayet; but provision is made for excluding any specified tanks from the control of the panchayet.

Clause 11 to 15 enumerate the powers which a panchayet may ordinarily exercise or which it may be specially entrusted with.

In clause 11, the power to apportion the work of maintenance under the Tank Maintenance Rules among the different raiyats and to carry out work which a raiyat may fail to do, which now vests in the patel, is transferred to the panchayet.

Sub-Clause (3) of clause 11 lays down that in order to determine the amount to be recovered from a raiyat who does not do the work allotted to him, the panchayet shall have power to fix the wages of labour subject to such maxima and minima as may be fixed by Government. It is not proposed to provide for any appeal to higher authority in regard to the exercise of this or other powers of the panchayet as public opinion in the village may be relied upon to act as a sufficient check against the panchayet acting in an unfair or arbitrary manner.

Clause 12 empowers the panchayet to give out the beds of tanks for temporary cultivation on such terms as it may lay down. The usual objections to the cultivation of tank beds are mostly objections against the use of manure which would render the water of the tank unfit for drinking purposes. The panchayet may be trusted to see that no such manure is used.

Clause 13 provides that in order to avoid the waste of water that may be caused by different raiyats commencing the sowing of wet crops at different times, the panchayet may decide on the time when such operations should be commenced, and also empowers the panchayet to regulate the issue of water from the tank.

Clause 14 is one of the most important clauses in the bill and constitutes an innovation which may be of far-reaching effect. This clause provides that a panchayet specially empowered by Government in this behalf may, having regard to the quantity of water available in the tank, impose such restriction as it may consider necessary on wet cultivation below the tank; but it is proposed to give this power only with the consent of a majority of not less than two-thirds of the raiyats holding wet lands under the tank who would be affected by the exercise of this power. It is well known that in seasons of short rainfall all the raiyats holding lands under a tank put their lands under wet cultivation, even when it is quite certain that the supply of water in the tank will not suffice to irrigate all their lands, with the result that all of them suffer from shortage in harvests, if not from total failure of crops. Similarly, there is now no restriction against any raiyat planting sugar-cane anywhere below the tank, and the result is that sugar-cane is planted in small patches here and there and this involves considerable waste of water. It is proposed to give the panchayet (with the consent of the wet land-holders) the power to determine with reference to the amount of water available in the tank, the extent out of each wet holding which should be cultivated with wet crops, to prevent the cultivation of sugar-cane altogether if the water in the tank is insufficient for such cultivation, or to select a suitable block near the sluice of the tank and parcel it out among the different raiyats who may wish to grow sugar-cane on such terms as regards rent or share of produce as may be agreed upon with the owner or owners of the block. If on account of shortage of water in the tank any land assessed as wet is not supplied with water for irrigation, it is proposed that half the assessment on the land should be remitted.

It is a question how far these provisions can be successfully worked. There is no combination among the raiyats, and the spirit of making a small personal sacrifice with a view to securing large common good has almost disappeared from the country. When carefully considered, however, there is really no sacrifice of individual interests involved in the case. Under the existing system, it is, as explained above, a case of a general scramble for water and of all being losers when there is insufficiency of water in the tank.

It is difficult to say whether all the raiyats in a village will be willing to abide by the decision of the panchayet that, in view of the insufficiency of the supply of water, a few of the lands should not grow irrigated crops. If they are prepared to accept such a decision and show some self-restraint, this will be a measure of the extent to which the spirit of combination and sacrifice, which the Government wish to revive, has been brought into existence. In the face of this moral gain, the remission of half the wet assessment proposed in sub-clause (3) as an inducement to the raiyats should not be a matter of much concern.

It is true that in Mysore we follow the Bombay system of settlement under which lands are classed with reference to the capacity of the tanks to supply irrigation to them and the assessment on them is fixed on the average of a series of years making sufficient allowance for deficiencies of rainfall and other vicissitudes of the season. Consequently the Government is not bound to grant full or partial remission in bad years, nor has it been customary to do so as a general rule. But it must be admitted that in spite of all the care taken by the Survey Department more land is sometimes entered in the accounts as irrigable by a tank than can properly be irrigated by it ; and that, although the average works out fairly and equitably in the long run, the vicissitudes of the seasons are often such as to cause hardship in limited tracts and in individual cases, in particular years.

A different and a more elastic, and possibly on that account a better, system prevails in the neighbouring Presidency of Madras, and representations have been made that that system may with advantage be adopted in Mysore. It is not practicable at this stage to alter the whole system of revenue settlement in force in the State ; but the Government have, however, been always, as a matter of concession, giving partial or total remission in cases of widespread drought. The present scheme affords the means of meeting in an automatic manner cases of limited or individual hardship due to failure of water-supply. The system of granting remissions which prevails in Madras is liable to abuse as the question of deciding whether there was any loss or shortage of crops is left to the subordinate officials. The scheme now proposed has the merit of leaving a question of this kind to the decision of the panchayet elected by the villagers themselves. It is not likely that the concession would in any way be abused or that it would lead to any serious loss of revenue, as a panchayet representing the raiyats would not put lands out of wet cultivation unless there were very good reasons for doing so. The Government assessment represents but a small proportion of the value of the total produce, and the community will not willingly forego the profits to be derived from wet cultivation simply to have the benefit of having half the wet assessment remitted. And from the point of view of the successful inauguration and working of this scheme, it is only some such concessions as these that will bring the people together and induce them to take an interest in the working of the panchayets. Besides, this system will afford valuable data about the irrigational capabilities of tanks and be of use in future settlements, as well as enable the Government to rectify any serious inequalities that may be disclosed in existing settlements.

Clause 15 deals with the construction, restoration and improvement of minor tanks. Under the existing system, Government does not undertake such construction, restoration or improvement unless the raiyats come forward and do the earthwork, when the Government gets the masonry and stone work executed. This clause lays down that if the panchayet undertakes to execute such construction, restoration or improvement, the Government may entrust to the panchayet all the work required with the exception of stone and masonry work which will be done at the cost of Government. It is also laid down that the Deputy Commissioner may at his discretion entrust the execution of masonry and stone work also to the panchayet.

Clause 16 provides that moneys due to the Tank Fund may be collected as arrears of land revenue.

Clause 17 provides for the abolition of a panchayet in cases of incompetency or of persistent default in the discharge of its duties, or of exceeding or abusing its powers and lays down that when a panchayet is abolished the Deputy Commissioner may take possession of the funds of the panchayet and enforce the maintenance of tanks under the ordinary rules.

Clause 18 only states the fact that nothing in the Regulation is to be deemed to relieve the raiyats of any of their obligations in regard to the restoration, repair and maintenance of tanks under the ordinary law or rules having the force of law.

Clause 19 provides for the making of rules for carrying out the purposes of the Regulation.

To—All Assistant Commissioners, Amildars, Deputy Amildars and Musiffs.

R. 130-07-2, dated 21st March 1908, and these amendments will come into force at once :—

1. Insert the following as Rules 3(a) and 4(a) :—

"3(a) Methylated Spirit may be imported by holders of M. S.—1*a* licenses on payment to the Mysore State of a duty of 5 per cent ad valorem and on obtaining from the Deputy Commissioner of the District concerned a permit in Form M. S.—2*a* to be had on application in Form M. S.—3*a*."

"4(a) Chemists and others requiring caoutchoucined spirit for use in their business, but not for sale, will be given special licenses (M. S.—1*a*) on application, supported by evidence as to their requirements, through the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which they carry on their business, to the Excise Commissioner."

2. Insert the words "by Deputy Commissioners" after the word "issued" in line 1 of Rule 4. Also insert the following sentence after the first sentence in the same rule:—

"All such applications should be forwarded to the Excise Commissioner through the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which the applicant wishes to hold his license."

3. Insert after the words "the holders of (M. S.—1)" in Rule 5 the words "and M. S.—1*a*." After the word "price" in line 2 put a comma and add the words "cost of carriage."

4. Substitute the following for condition 2 of the license for the sale of Methylated Spirit :—

"2. Methylated Spirits may be obtained from the Bonded Depot, on payment of the reduced duty at 5 per cent ad valorem, and price and cost of carriage at such rate as may be fixed by the manufacturers and Government respectively, into a Taluk Treasury on the prescribed chellan and on production of a written permission from the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which the shop is located. All applications for such permission must be in the prescribed form. Books of form of application may be had on payment of their cost price."

Thus amended and re-numbered the rules will read as follows and should be cited accordingly in supersession of previous notifications on the subject :—

1. Methylated Spirit is spirit rendered effectually and permanently unfit for human consumption by the admixture of caoutchoucine or in special cases of wood-naptha.

2. It is liable to duty of 5 per cent ad valorem, the value to be fixed by the Excise Commissioner subject to revision by Government. The manufacturers should declare the sale price of the spirit for the purpose of calculating the duty.

3. It may be manufactured at the Government Central Distillery at Bangalore, provided :—

(1) that the caoutchoucine to be mixed with the spirit must be first tested and approved by the Chemical Examiner to Government,

(2) that it must be kept under lock and key by, and used under the supervision of, the Distillery Officer,

(3) that it must be used in the proportion of one part by volume of caoutchoucine to 99 parts by volume of the spirit, and

(4) that the spirit shall not be of less strength than 30 per cent overproof.

Similar conditions apply to the use of wood-naptha in the special cases where its use is permitted by the Excise Commissioner in Mysore, with this difference, that one part by volume crude wood-naptha shall be mixed with nine parts of spirits and that the use of wood-naptha in a highly purified condition will not be permitted.

3(a) Methylated Spirit may be imported by holders of M. S.—1*a* licenses on payment to the Mysore State of a duty of 5 per cent ad valorem and on obtaining from the Deputy Commissioner of the District concerned a permit in Form M. S.—2*a* to be had on application in Form M. S.—3*a*.

4. Licenses (M. S.—1) for the sale of Methylated Spirits will be issued by the Deputy Commissioner free of fee to respectable applicants on their showing that they have a legitimate demand for such spirit. All such applications should be forwarded to the Excise Commissioner through the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which the applicant wishes to hold his license. But the issue of licenses to persons licensed to sell liquor for consumption on the premises is prohibited.

4(a) Chemists and others requiring caoutchoucined spirit for use in their business, but not for sale, will be given special licenses (M. S.—1*a*) on application, supported by evidence as to their requirements, to the Excise Commissioner through the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which they carry on their business.

5. The holders of (M. S.—1. and M. S.—1*a*) licenses may obtain their supplies of spirit from the Bonded Depot on payment of the price, cost of carriage and duty to the Taluk Treasury and on production of a written permission (M. S.—2) from the Deputy Commissioner of the District in which the shop is located. Books of forms of application for such permission (M. S.—3) will be supplied to them.

6. For the issue of Methylated Spirits from the Distillery to Bonded Depots the rules applicable to arrack and other country spirits shall apply mutatis mutandis.

7. No issue of more than 100 gallons of Methylated Spirit at a time to any license-holder is permitted.

8. Unlicensed persons are prohibited from selling Methylated Spirit and from possessing more than one gallon at a time. This limit is fixed under Section 13 of the Excise Regulation, V of 1901. Breach of this rule will subject the offender to the penalties prescribed in the Regulation.

9. Materials intended for use in the methylation of spirits must be delivered by the manufacturers into the charge of the Distillery Officer who will take a sample from each separate cask or parcel thereof and forward the same to the Excise Commissioner in Mysore for transmission to the Chemical Examiner, and will secure the bulk under a lock in a separate secure room or godown to be provided by the distiller. No portion of such bulk shall be used for the purpose of methylation or be transferred to the Warehouse until the receipt of the Chemical Examiner's report. On the receipt thereof, if it be to the effect that the materials are not suitable for use in methylation, the officer shall deliver the same to the manufacturers who shall be bound forthwith to remove the same from the premises and not bring them back again. If, however, the Chemical Examiner's report is to the effect that the materials are suitable for use in methylation, the officer will cause them to be removed into and to be secured in the Distillery Warehouse, and at the same time enter them in the register (M. S.—4).

10. A register in the form (M. S.—4) shall be maintained at the Government Central Distillery at Bangalore.

Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

READ—

Letter No. 13176, dated the 27th May 1908, from the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore, seeking instructions of Government on certain points which have arisen in appeal case No. 79 of 1907-08, on the file of his Court.

No. R. 1280-9½—R. M. 310-07-2, DATED BANGALORE, 25TH AUGUST 1908.

ORDER THEREON.—A jungle-stream taking its rise in some hills above the village of Sunkal-Hosur in the Hole-Narsipur Taluk and passing through dry land Survey No. 5 of that village, belonging to one Venkoba Rao, was dammed up by him in 1904-05 within the limits of the said survey number, in order to irrigate it. Thereupon, the Jamabandi Officer (Mr. B. Ramaswamaiya) directed that a water-rate of Rs. 20-11-6 should be levied from Venkoba Rao. The latter appealed against this order to the Deputy Commissioner, stating that he was not liable to pay any water-rate under para III of the Survey Guarantee, as he had merely utilized the water of a stream flowing through his land. The Deputy Commissioner, however, rejected the appeal. On second appeal, the Revenue Commissioner has forwarded the case for the orders of Government, as he feels some doubt whether, in accordance with the principles laid down in Government Proceedings No. 11033—641, dated the 17th December 1890, and No. 3542—51, dated the 15th March 1903, and para III of the Survey Guarantee, the appellant would not be entitled to exemption from payment of water-rate; and is of opinion that, if such a right on behalf of land-holders to irrigate their lands by damming up jungle-streams within their own lands is recognized, it would be necessary to subject it to some restrictions, in order to safe-guard the rights of Government to utilize, when occasion arises, the water-supply which may be derived therefrom.

The orders referred to by the Revenue Commissioner are not, as observed by him, exactly applicable to the present case. The order of 1890 refers to a case in which the water was derived from springs arising in the land itself; and Government Proceedings No. 3542-51, dated the 5th March 1903, merely lays down that an occupant, who constructs dams across, or draws water direct from, a stream, not within the boundary of his occupancy, is liable to water-rate, and does not decide what are the rights of a land-holder to use the water of streams passing through his holding. The stream from which the water is drawn is stated to be a small affluent of the Hemavati. The right to its water vests therefore in Government, under Section 36 of the Land Revenue Regulation; and Government may levy a water-rate for its use under Section 53. Para III of the Survey Guarantee of 1870 is merely intended to encourage land-holders to create new sources of irrigation for their own lands, and does not confer any power on them to use water flowing in defined streams through their lands, so as to affect the supply to any Government work of irrigation. In the case under reference, no water-rate need be levied, as the dam has been constructed within the land itself, and there are no Government works of irrigation below it, dependent on the water of the stream in question. Government, however, consider that no person should be allowed to utilize water flowing in streams passing through private holdings without obtaining previous permission; and such permission, when granted, should be subject to the express condition that the use of water may be prohibited and any private work of irrigation, which may have been constructed, may be required to be removed, if such a course is found necessary, in order to construct any new Government work of irrigation, or for the purpose of securing an adequate supply of water for any such existing work, or for improving it.

No. R. 1742—Agri. 145-06-7, dated 12th September 1908.

The following letter No. 770, dated 8th February 1907, together with its enclosures from Dr. Lehmann, Agricultural Chemist to the Government of Mysore, are herewith published for general information as they contain useful matters regarding the prospects of development of sugar industry in the State.

By Order,

K. S. CHANDRASEKHARA AIYAR,
Secy. to Govt., Gen. & Rev. Depts.

In response to Government Order No. R. 8644—Agri. 285-03-9, of 15th March 1905, I have the honour to report on the results of some of my experiments in regard to the manufacture of sugar.

2. Most of these results have already been reported on from time to time in my annual reports, and the desirability of using more modern methods for utilising the juice of the sugar-cane than those involved in making jaggory have been referred to by me on several occasions. Appended I am giving extracts from the marginally noted reports giving some of the reasons why it appears highly desirable to me that more modern machinery should be introduced into Mysore for manufacturing sugar. The substance of these extracts is in short that the imports of refined sugar are very large and rapidly increasing. In 1903-04 the imports were over 290,000 tons, an increase compared with 10 years before of 173 per cent. This rapidly growing increase can only be checked by India producing a sugar of equally good quality herself, and to do this improved machinery is absolutely necessary. The imports in 1903-04, amount to about two pounds of sugar per head of population. The increase in importations must imply a reduction in the jaggory produced in India, unless the consumption of sugar per head is also increased. The present system of boiling jaggory and afterwards refining this is a very wasteful process. The better the machinery used, the less the loss will be. India has many natural advantages for producing sugar, and if these opportunities are made use of, could export sugar very largely instead of importing it.

(b) Second Annual Report, page 6.
(c) Fifth Annual Report, pages 9 and 10.
(d) Sixth Annual Report, page 21, para 42.

3. India as a whole and Mysore in particular can grow sugar-cane of the very best quality—(21 per cent of sugar less than ½ per cent glucose). I know of no other sugar-cane to equal our best. The outturn per acre can be materially increased with proper cultivation. Labour is cheap. The chief drawback to the industry flourishing and sugar being exported instead of imported is the lack of anything approaching modern machinery in its manufacture. The larger and more modern the machinery used the more completely would be overcome the immense losses now sustained by jaggory boiling and the conversion of that into refined sugar. The ordinary country mill when used to its best advantage leaves as a rule over 26 per cent of the total sugar in the refuse. Over a quarter of the sugar grown is therefore lost by imperfect milling when the ordinary bullock mill is used. A mill of this sort will crush between one hundred weight and two hundred weights per hour, and as a rule three pairs and some times six pairs of bullocks are used for each mill one working while all the other pairs are resting.

4. With a somewhat larger and better made mill driven by an engine the loss of sugar is reduced from 26 per cent to about 18 per cent, and a six-horsepower engine running it will enable it to crush about 1 ton of cane per hour. The expense of running such a mill with an oil engine will be about five rupees per day and as it will do 10 to 20 times as much work as an ordinary cattle mill, these five rupees will pay when used in this way for the work done by about 60 pairs of bullocks and about forty coolies per day when using the ordinary country mill. In other words, the crushing of the cane with the larger mill will cost about one-eighth or one-tenth of what it would cost with the country mill besides saving at the rate of about 40 maunds of jaggory or about 50 Rs. per acre on the extra weight of sugar extracted from the cane.

5. With still larger mills the saving is still greater and with the largest mill I know of, all but 7 per cent or 8 per cent of the sugar in the cane are expressed. But these very large mills require such a large area of sugar-cane to keep them working, that for the present they could only be employed to the best advantage in two or three places in Mysore. But somewhat smaller mills would be of immense benefit and could be generally used. What has been said about mills applies to a greater or less degree to all the other appliances found in a sugar house.

6. As pointed out in my second annual report, the loss from decomposition of sugar when boiling down the juice of sugar-cane is very great in Mysore, in some instances amounting to over 20 per cent. This is due to boiling down the juice in an open pan over a "direct" fire and to improper liming. Fermentation is also a great source of loss of sugar. With modern methods and modern machinery this loss can be almost completely overcome.

7. For jaggory boiling the only machinery and appliances necessary are a mill, an open sugar pan and a few chatties and vessels. The juice of the cane after being expressed by the mill is simply boiled down until after cooling it solidifies. To make sugar instead of jaggory the juice is not boiled down so far and the molasses is separated by a centrifugal from the sugar with which it is mixed. But in order to make a good quality of sugar and get as large a quantity of it as possible from a given weight of cane, a number of other processes are necessary. The juice has to be properly limed, the impurities thrown down by the lime have to be separated out, the scum formed on the surface of the juice when boiled up has to be removed and passed through a filter press, any excess of lime if added has to be removed and the juice has to be boiled down as quickly as possible and at the same time at as low a temperature as possible to the point at which the bulk of the sugar crystallises out so as to prevent decomposition. To remove all these impurities reduces of course the gross weight of the sugar produced. The molasses can however sometimes be used for other purposes. But even considering the molasses to be of no value it is much more profitable to remove these impurities than to let them remain in the finished products. Jaggory sells on an average at about one anna a pound. The average value per pound of the imported sugar as given by the "Customs Returns" is very nearly 1½ annas per pound, and the retail price of that sugar is very nearly two annas a pound. Out of the juice which would give 100 lbs. of jaggory of good quality I have made from 80 to 87 lbs. of centrifugalled sugar. And, notwithstanding that with the present appliances, I have not been able to remove all the impurities separated by the lime and that the sugar was therefore darker in colour and not quite as pure as it would otherwise have been, I sold it for 1½ annas to 2 annas a pound and some of it was over 98 per cent pure. This would imply that when making sugar instead of jaggory the total return would be from 25 per cent to 50 per cent more than when making jaggory; and as the profit begins after all the expenses have been deducted, and it is not much more expensive to make centrifugalled sugar than jaggory, the profits must be immensely greater when making the centrifugalled sugar. I might add that since writing my report for 1904-05 the imports of refined sugar for that year and the last one have been published. During 1905-06 the total imports of refined sugar into India were 368,355 tons valued at Rs. 7,22,25,947, an increase of 28·39 per cent in value and 26·39 per cent in weight in these two years. If the people in Mysore have used imported sugar at the same rate as the other people in India have done this would indicate that last year the sugar imported into Mysore was 6,932 tons or a little over 2·8 lbs. per head, costing Rs. 13,59,393. Based on the same calculations the imports into Mysore were in 1894-95 less than 2,169 tons and Rs. 2,33,764. This is equivalent to an increase of 481½ per cent in value in 11 years and nearly 9 per cent in value and 14½ per cent in quantity in the last year. With proper machinery it would be easily possible not only to keep all this money sent to foreign countries for sugar in Mysore but to export sugar in considerable quantities at a handsome profit. Besides improving the manufacture of sugar, the introduction of comparatively modern machinery would also improve the jaggory manufactured in the country for such time as jaggory would be continued to be manufactured.

8. To boil the juice of sugar-cane into jaggory and to refine that afterwards is a very wasteful method of making refined sugar. Because in the first case by so doing, a large portion of the water evaporated when boiling down the juice to jaggory has to be added again afterwards to make it possible to remove the impurities contained in the jaggory and afterwards this water has to be again evaporated. The fuel used in that operation is therefore practically wasted; for these impurities could be removed before boiling down the juice to jaggory. And to remove these impurities after the juice has been boiled down to jaggory also implies a comparatively heavy and unnecessary expenditure in bone char. Besides these and a few other losses which are necessarily connected with the refining of jaggory the method as employed as at present includes all those losses which apply to jaggory making as such.

9. Considering all this it is surprising that the refining of jaggory has ever paid. And the fact that refineries can exist and use more or less sugar-cane jaggory for refining purposes proves more conclusively than any estimates which could be prepared that it must pay handsomely to produce so-called refined sugar directly from the cane, provided sufficient sugar-cane can be grown within a reasonable distance of a sugar factory to keep it in work for two or three months in the year. The larger such a factory is, other things being equal, the more economically it can work. But unfortunately at present neither the area of sugar-cane cultivated by any one man in any spot in Mysore, nor the capital at the disposal of the average cultivators will permit of the erection of a large modern sugar house. But small sugar houses dealing with from 40 acres to 200 acres of cane or even more could be established to great advantage in many parts of Mysore if those who have the necessary capital could increase the area cultivated or the less wealthy would form a company.

10. At present there are however very few cultivators who are able to grow more than 10 acres or 15 acres of sugar-cane. One of the chief reasons for this is that they are unable to mill and boil more cane than can be grown on that area with the appliances at present at their disposal. It is practically impossible to mill more than one acre of good sugar-cane with a single cattle mill as ordinarily used in one month's time, and as most of the varieties of sugar-cane deteriorate materially when allowed to remain growing for more than a month or six weeks after they have reached their maximum sugar contents it would take six or seven of the ordinary bullock mills to crush the cane which could be grown on 10 acres of good land in the time during which the cane remains at its best, and that number of mills is about the maximum for which even comparatively wealthy land-owners can supply the necessary bullocks.

11. With the machinery in use at present the area of sugar-cane grown by any one proprietor is therefore practically limited to about 10 or 15 acres. With even a very small sugar house based on only moderately modern methods the smallest area which would suffice to keep that sugar house working to advantage for say two months in the year would be about 40 or 50 acres. It would therefore require the co-operation of several cultivators of sugar-cane to supply the demands of such a sugar house unless the cultivators are so confident of the success of a modern sugar house that they are prepared on the strength of that confidence to suddenly and very materially increase the area under sugar-cane and it is hardly to be expected that such confidence can be established in the minds of the cultivators by any Department of Agriculture if they are not in a position to show the machinery at work and prove by ocular demonstration that what they claim can in reality be done.

12. I think I have given sufficient figures to show that the people of India want a very large quantity of so-called refined sugar and that this demand is growing enormously. That the present system of boiling jaggory with the appliances at the disposal of the raiyats is very wasteful and that furthermore the practice of refining jaggory is wasteful in itself and that such methods are not likely to stem the tide of imported sugar in the future any more than it has done in the past.

13. I think I have also given sufficient evidence that the manufacture of sugar directly from the cane must be profitable and highly profitable.

14. The machinery in a modern sugar house is no doubt expensive. But the total cost of the mill is returned in a year by the extra amount of sugar it extracts from the cane and the engine will be repaid in two or utmost three years by the reduction in the expense of milling the cane. Just how long it will take to repay the other machinery by the increased profits I cannot state definitely at present. But probably it will be paid for as quickly as the mill and engines. This applies of course to machinery run intelligently for about two months a year continuously.

15. I hope I have pointed out sufficiently the improvements which can be brought about by more up-to-date machinery and methods in the Mysore sugar-cane industry to make it appear highly desirable to give the raiyats a chance of seeing such machinery at work, and learning for themselves what can be done with it. It is partly for that reason I should like to have a complete sugar house on the Experimental Farm at Hebbal. But another and equally weighty reason is that I should like to have a chance of experimenting further on the methods of sugar making and testing what methods would probably give best results in Mysore. For as in Mysore the conditions are not the same as in other sugar-producing countries we must make our own experiments in the manufacture of sugar as well as in other things.

16. But there is third reason as important as either of the other two which makes it desirable to have a sugar house capable of treating a much larger quantity of sugar-cane in a month or so than we shall ever be able to grow on the experimental farm, and that is, that in order to be able to conduct plot experiments with sugar-cane all the plots in one set of experiments must be practically cut at the same time, and in order to be able to do this it is necessary to have a very much larger sugar house than would be necessary for ordinary purposes.

17. I have 15 estimates for various sized sugar houses specially prepared for me by various manufacturers. They vary from Rs. 16,000 to Rs. 1,29,000 in price and in capacity from 1 ton of sugar a day to 4 tons per day. But the kind of machinery in them varies even more than the price and capacity; some of them are almost miniature modern sugar houses. Others small sugar houses as they were met with fifty years or more ago. None of them has however a nine-roller mill, such as I think we ought to have for our experimental work.

In the Experiment Station at New Orleans, in which I was Chemist 15 years or so ago, we had about 20 acres of land and on it a sugar house which would probably cost now Rs. 1,00,000. But in it were a diffusion plant as well as a nine-roller mill and a number of other machines were present in duplicate.

The sugar house which, it would, in my opinion, be highly desirable to have on the farm, would cost probably about Rs. 40,000 or Rs. 50,000. This would also provide for a number of machines being in duplicate for experimental purposes. But as such a sugar house can be equipped in stages and as I know there is a very heavy demand on the State Funds, I request that Rs. 20,000 be included in my next year's budget to enable me to get the most important machinery, and that the other machinery be added as circumstances permit. Should Government desire me to give the experiments on which the estimates of the losses sustained by the present method of jaggory boiling have been based in greater detail I shall of course be delighted to do so.

ENCLOSURES TO THE ABOVE.

(1) A note on the Mysore Sugar Industry.

When appointed to my present position one of the duties imposed on me was to try to revive decaying industries in Mysore. In trying to fulfil this part of my duty I have given special attention to the sugar industry. I did so because on the one hand through the assistance of Government the silk industry was already being investigated by specialists, the representatives of Mr. Tata, and because on the other hand the sugar industry is one of those industries of Mysore in which I have had much practical experience before coming here.

No doubt many would resent the idea that the sugar industry is in the process of decay, as it has been carried on in much the same way as at present for the past six hundred years or more; that, in fact, it has been improved upon, because for one thing quite recently iron mills have taken the place of the old wooden mills and much better extraction of the juice is being obtained. But when viewed in the light of the progress made in other countries, and when the relative position of India as a sugar producing country six hundred years ago and its present position are compared there can be no doubt that the sugar industry is one of those decaying industries which it is in the interests of the State to revive. In fact the native refining industry is already practically dead, so far as I could ascertain, in Mysore. So-called refiners are still engaged in the bazaars and sell so-called native refined sugar. This is, however, nothing but sugar refined in the large factories, imported into the State and remelted in the bazaars to give this sugar the appearance of native-refined sugar; and to overcome the objection existing to sugar refined with charcoal, the so-called native refined sugar is therefore sold under false pretensions.

The fate which has overtaken the native refining industry is sure to overtake the jaggory boiling industry sooner or later. In fact the sooner the jaggory boiling is abolished the sooner the sugar industry will regain some of its former splendour. Of course the methods of cultivating the cane will also have to be improved. But of this I shall speak on some other occasion. At present I shall only attempt to prove that jaggory boiling is one of the prime factors retarding the sugar industry, and make some suggestions for the removal of this barrier.

In jaggory boiling as at present carried on in the Kunigal, Krishnarajpete and Seringapatam Taluks there is a loss varying from 10 per cent to 22 per cent of the weight of the jaggory in refinable sugar. In other words, the same quantity of sugar-cane which produced 100 lbs. of jaggory from which 50 to 62 lbs. of refined sugar could be obtained could give, if manufactured directly into refined sugar by improved machinery, about 70 to 75 lbs. of refined sugar. That such a loss may make all the difference between a flourishing industry and a crippled one is self evident. But to this loss must be added the expense of the fuel used for boiling the jaggory and many other items; for the fuel used to make the jaggory is largely wasted if the jaggory has to be remelted and refined and the cheap fuel used for this purpose such as the begasse (the expressed cane stalk) and jungle wood has to be replaced by the more expensive fuel used in the refineries. There are many other drawbacks and losses in jaggory boiling. But these cannot be taken into account here especially as they are to some extent at least offset by drawbacks in whatever other system might be introduced. But the loss of on an average 15 lbs. on every 75 lbs. of refinable sugar is so serious that, I think, it justifies almost any effort made to save it. This loss may be partially overcome by improving the present system of jaggory boiling. To what extent I cannot say definitely. But as soon as I am in a position to do so I shall make experiments in the laboratory, to save as much of this loss as possible by making various improvements to meet the different circumstances of the present sugar producers. But so long as jaggory boiling is continued this loss must go on to a very large extent as has been proven by all the leading sugar producing countries having abandoned long ago all systems which were in any way similar to that in vogue here.

Six hundred years ago India was the leading sugar exporting country, and sugar was known in England as Indian salt. Now instead of exporting India imports thousands of tons of sugar every year largely from Germany. This is not because Germany is naturally in a better position to produce sugar, but because it has been devoting perseverance, skill and capital to this industry. Naturally Germany possesses no advantages in producing sugar over Mysore. In Germany sugar is made from beets instead of cane. The percentage of sugar in the juice of beets is, if anything, slightly inferior to that from cane. To extract the juice from the beets is more complicated than extracting it from cane. To make sugar from beet juice is much more difficult than making it from cane juice, because, the beet juice has many more impurities than cane juice and as these impurities have a very disagreeable taste they must be entirely removed before the sugar can be used even for culinary purposes while the impurities of sugar-cane juice are not unpalatable and absolute purity of the sugar produced from it is therefore in many cases not necessary. In addition to this the yield of sugar beets is very considerably less per acre than cane and the cultivation required decidedly more than that necessary for sugar-cane. On no point does the sugar beet possess advantages superior to cane and in most respects it is decidedly inferior to the sugar-cane. In addition to this the wages paid the ordinary working man in Germany is much higher than that paid the coolies in India, labourers there receiving about Re. 1 per day. What then is the reason that the Germans can pay the freight on their sugar to India and still compete successfully with the Indian sugars in their own market. It is simply that they manufacture it on the large scale, use the most approved machinery which they have invented themselves; study to avoid every loss of time and material and have skilled men in charge of every operation. If we successfully learn the lessons they are teaching us and act upon them there is no reason why India should not export sugar to Germany if no tariff restrictions prevent it.

In Louisiana frost almost invariably kills the sugar-cane prematurely or rather necessitates its being cut prematurely, and as a result the juice contains more impurities and less sugar than here, and the price of labour (no better than that given by the coolies here) is from Rs. 2 to Rs. 3 per day. Even under such disadvantages the large factories would be able to compete with the German sugar if unprotected by either bounty or sugar duty. Cuba, the dreaded rival of the German sugar manufactures, was hampered with heavy excise taxes paid to the Spanish Government and by inferior cultivation of the cane. For the present the late war has ruined its finances. Jamaica has, I am told, the same primitive methods it had fifty years ago, and is no longer a sugar-producing country of note. Demarara labours under the expensive system of having to pump out surplus water from its fields, some of which are below the level of the sea and keeping up an expensive system of dams. Mysore has undoubtedly a disadvantage in having a comparatively long dry season necessitating irrigation. But this disadvantage is comparatively insignificant when viewed with those mentioned above, and Mysore should therefore be in a position to compete with any of these countries, especially so in the markets of India.

There is no doubt then that Mysore can take a leading part in the sugar industry; it can follow the methods practised in those countries leading in this industry at present. But, as I said before, in none of them is any system of sugar boiling practised which resembles our own. It is of prime importance that marketable sugar be produced directly from the cane and that all the care possible be exercised to prevent loss of either material or time. To do this improved and expensive machinery is necessary, and, as in most manufacturing industries, the larger and more expensive the plant the more economically it can be made to work. Of course the scattered position of the sugar-cane fields in many parts of Mysore as well as the limited capital at the disposal of those who might be willing to form a company to build a modern sugar house will prevent for the present such large sugar houses being built as are frequently met with in other countries. But as it would not be difficult to find many places in which 100 acres or 200 acres or even double this number of acres of sugar-cane could be grown within a radius of four or five miles, sugar houses dealing with 100 or 200 acres of cane could be very profitably established. These would cost between Rs. 1,00,000 and Rs. 2,00,000, and ought to pay for themselves in a short term of years. Such sugar houses are something quite distinct from refineries. They turn out a fairly white sugar without the use of charcoal and are in many respects simpler than refineries. But as this process of manufacturing a good marketable sugar direct from the cane without the use of charcoal, is practically unknown in India, I request Government to kindly consider the possibility of putting up such a sugar house for demonstration purposes. I have no doubt that if properly located and worked there will be a considerable profit even in the pioneer plant, and have no fear that it could not be disposed of without loss. In fact one native gentleman, Mr. Sabapathaiya, has already promised me that if Government would put up such a sugar house on his estate near Bangalore he would guarantee to have 100 acres of sugar-cane within the radius of five miles or less to be worked up in such a sugar house and promised to take over the plant at the expiration of one or two years at its cost price. No doubt other gentlemen, either native or European, would be glad to avail themselves of such an opportunity. Mr. Young of Nyamati for one, is, I know, also anxious to avail himself of such an offer if he can find the necessary funds.

In conclusion permit me to repeat that if the sugar industry is to flourish, such factories must be established. The plan on which the capital to erect them is to be provided may differ. It may be that the raiyats themselves club together like the farmers in Canada have done to build cheese factories; that companies of raiyats and others be formed; that either outside companies or individuals build these central factories or sugar houses and buy the cane from the raiyats; or sugar planters be found who own the lands, cultivate them themselves and build their own sugar houses as in Louisiana. But while it is absolutely necessary to have these larger sugar houses if the industry is to flourish, there must invariably be some raiyats so situated that they cannot avail themselves of these advantages; and for these simpler plans will have to be worked out. So while most strongly urging Government to consider the possibility of building such a factory as referred to above, I shall by no means consider that that is all which is required to be done. Finally, permit me to state that the sooner such a work is taken in hand the better it will be. For one thing Cuba, formerly the largest cane-sugar-producing country, will be sure to revive from the temporary depression the war has created, before long, and as the heavy taxes imposed by Spain before the war have been removed, it will be producing more sugar than before the war.

Jaggory versus Raw Sugar.—So long as jaggory boiling is continued, it is, of course, necessary to make it as profitable as possible for the raiyats engaged in it. But the aim should be to replace this method of utilising the sugar-cane as soon as possible by a rational system of sugar making.

No doubt, there will remain in India a market for jaggory for generations to come. But this market will no doubt continue to grow smaller and smaller, while the market for the various forms of sugar will continually increase. If this be the case, it is evident that if India is to retain the position it holds at present, it must increase its supply of sugar at the expense of jaggory. To do this by refining jaggory is certainly a wasteful method; because—

(a) In jaggories numerous impurities are retained which could be easily removed if the juice were boiled into raw sugars, but are more difficult to remove later on.

(b) The better grades of raw sugar would be equal to the poorer grades of refined sugar in the market at present, (as a matter of fact, sugar can be made directly from the juice without bone char equal to the best grades of refined sugar. And such sugar is being made in America). The cost of refining such sugars will therefore be saved.

(c) It is easier and cheaper to refine such raw sugars as may require refining than to refine the average jaggories, and this saving will more than compensate for the extra expense in making the raw sugars.

In order to retain the present extent of cane cultivation, it is therefore better to boil the juice directly into sugar than into jaggory as done at present.

It is, however, a low ambition to simply retain the present position of the sugar industry, when India is importing sugar on such a large scale as it does. Deducting the exports from the imports for the past year, there remains a net import of sugar to the extent of over 130,000 tons. In other words, it would take a railway train covering over 35 miles of track, car touching, to carry this sugar, or one train composed of 24 car-loads of sugar would have to run every day of the year to take away the sugar from the steamships as they come in.

This import takes place into a country which may be considered as the original home of the sugar industry; into a country which possesses, in some respects at least, great advantages for the production of sugar over the countries from which the sugar is imported. India ought certainly to be able to produce this sugar at home. But if it is necessary to partially abandon jaggory boiling in favour of raw sugars in order to simply retain that portion of our own sugar market, we possess at present, how much more important when we wish to regain a portion of our own markets we have lost. For the sugar imported is of the better grades. We pay for it a little over Rs. 10 per hundredweight and for that we have exported we get considerably less than Rs. 6 per hundredweight.

A general opinion is that the raiyats of India are too poor to make any improvements in their methods. Still they can afford to lose considerably over 4 annas on every 16 annas' worth of jaggory they produce (which they might save without any extra outlay), and the people as a whole can afford to pay over 292 lacs of rupees to foreign countries for sugar which might be grown at home.

(3) Extract from the Fifth Annual Report, (para 28).

The aim of those interested in sugar-cane growing will have to be directed to the production of raw sugars instead of jaggory. Notwithstanding that the present methods of jaggory-making are capable of considerable improvement, the sugar industry must gradually decline if jaggory is made instead of raw sugars. In order to replace, or even to compete with the sugar at present imported in such large quantities into India, we must produce a sugar which can be easily refined. For refining purposes it is infinitely better to produce raw sugars than jaggory. And unless this is done, the sugar industry must decline with the gradually declining consumption of jaggory as such. This season it was only possible to produce one sample of raw centrifugalled sugar at the Laboratory. It contained 94·1 per cent of sucrose and 2·45 per cent of glucose. It is hoped that next season will give opportunities of doing more in this line of work.

(4) Extract from the Sixth Annual Report, (para 42).

A large and greatly increasing quantity of sugar is being imported to India every year. In 1893-94 this quantity was a little over 106,000 tons. Five years later the import had nearly doubled, being nearly 204,000 tons; and last year it was a little over 290,000 tons, which is an increase of over 42 per cent in these last five years. This import amounts to nearly 2 lbs. per head of population, and must represent a very considerable part of the total sugar consumption of India. These imports now come chiefly from Mauritius and Java, and less than 27,000 tons came last year from beet sugar-producing countries. That such a large and increasing import of sugar takes place, shows conclusively that there is something radically wrong with the Indian sugar industry. As far as Mysore is concerned, this "something" is certainly not to be found in the quality of the cane. For I know of no other country in the world in which sugar-cane is grown which contains 20 and 21 per cent of sucrose as it does in Mysore at times. The quantity of cane per acre should of course be improved. But probably there is no part of the industry which requires greater improvement than the manufacturing side. The milling of the cane, the liming, the removal of scum when boiling and the guarding against loss from fermentation of the juice are factors which require careful attention. But as the sugar imported is either refined or goes to the Indian refineries to be refined before being placed on the retail market, it is evident that in order to compete with this imported sugar we must treat our cane juice in such a way as to produce in the most economic way high grades of sugar. And we are unable to do this as long as we produce jaggory first and send that to the factories to be refined. The fuel used to boil down the juice to jaggory is practically wasted, and the char filters and other parts of the refineries are given infinitely more work than need be if the molasses is not removed from the sugar before the latter is refined. Moreover the best grades of raw, centrifugalled sugar manufactured in the districts could be only high quality to be able to replace directly a part of the imported sugar. Jaggory would be unable to do this. As the universal experience is that refined sugars gradually replace the lower grades of sugars in the market, it is self-evident that as long as jaggory continues to be the chief product of the sugar-cane, the sugar industry is bound to decline unless a jaggory can be manufactured which is eminently suited for refining purposes. And as, for the reasons given above, this is not likely to be the case, it is necessary to replace jaggory boiling by more modern methods and to produce as good a quality of raw sugar as the circumstances will permit if the imported sugar is to be replaced in the Indian market by that produced in the country. India is the home of the sugar industry, and when sugar was first imported into Europe it was known by the name of "Indian salt." But the methods which were eminently successful 700 years, or even 150 years ago, cannot compete with modern appliances in an industry in which such advancement has been made as in sugar boiling. Sugar has dropped very much in price. When first imported in large quantities into Europe it was sold for a price considerably over Re. 1 per pound. In fact only about 100 years ago it was sold, for a short time, for well over Rs. 2 per pound on the continent of Europe; but this excessively high price was due to great restrictions having been placed on trade with sugar in continental Europe. The present comparatively very low price is in a great measure due to better and cheaper methods of production, and in order to compete, even in our own markets with countries employing these cheaper and better methods of productions, we must improve our own methods. If their methods are not applicable here we must make our own improvements; but improvements we must make if we want to keep a sugar industry.
